

OUR MISSION

The South Asian Arts Council (SAAC), formerly the Committee for the Arts of the Indian Subcontinent (CAIS), established in 2003, supports the San Diego Museum of Art in its mission to promote knowledge and appreciation of the arts of the South Asian civilizations. The world-renowned Edwin Binney 3rd Collection of over 1,400 Indian miniature paintings serves as the focal point of the museum's South Asian holdings. SAAC's broad perspective supports a full range of art forms from the region - modern and contemporary art as well as the traditional visual arts and culture.

SAAC offers its members a diverse experience of South Asian art and culture through its lecture series, study group, travel programs, exhibitions and curatorial support.

BENEFITS OF MEMBERSHIP

- Lectures by artists, curators and scholars
- Special movie showings and performing arts events
- Participation in the Indic Art study group
- Art related tours
- Opportunity to meet people with shared interests
- Community support of the arts
